1. Taylor Strauder was indicted for murder in the Circuit Court of Ohio county, on the 30th day of May, 1872, within one month after he was arrested. The cause was continued several times upon his motion, but never on the motion of the State. He was tried and convicted at the July term, 1873; he then applied for and obtained a writ of error to the Supreme Court of Appeals. On the 20th day of July, 1874, they reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court, sentencing him to be hanged, because the Circuit Court had refused to remand him to the County Court for examination. TAYLOR STRAUDER'S CLASE.—The case of Taylor Strauder, who killed his wife in this city in April, 1872, has been so long before the courts that it has become tolerably familiar to the public. In July, 1873, he was tried and convicted of murder in the first degree, when the case was taken to the Sapreme Court by his counsel, Messra. Davenport and Dovener, who claimed among other things that the prisoner was entitled to a trial by his peers—litrors of his own complexion—and that Hancook county. Affirmed.

Reversed and bilis lisminsed. oner was entilled to a trial by his pieers—jurors of his own complexion—and that he should have the right to have his case removed to the Federal Courts. A new trial was granted the prisoner on the ground that his cause had not been before the County Court as an examining court previous to its trial in the Circuit Court. The case then went to the County Court as an examining tribunal, thence to the Circuit Court, and resulted in Strander's second conviction and sentence to death by hanging. All points raised by the prisoner's counsel at the first trial and left undecided by the Supreme Court were again brought to the attention of the Supreme Court, which on Saturday decided all of them against him, affirming the secision of the case in the Court below, Anderson vs. Cranmer, Ohio count By Judge Moore: Perry vs. Horn, from Wood county.

TEMPERANCE NOTES.—Mr. Frank Grubb, of Columbus, Ohio, is announced to speak at Ott's Hall to-morrow evening, Rev. Dr. George delivered a sermon on temperance at the Fourth Street M. E. Church last evening. His subject was "Help of God on the Way."

This is the way Trueman puts it to the moderates: "Talk to me of a tolerably temperate man. You might as well speak of a corpse that is tolerably dead."

At Ott's Hall, Saturday night, Mr. Hiram Young, the President of the Union, conducted the services. Mr. A. G. Wincher read a chapter of the Scriptures, and then offered an earnest prayer. The President then introduced Rev. J. R. Thompson, President of the Morganiown University, who entertained the audience for about half an hour. If it had been known in time to announce Mr. Thompson's presence the hall would not have beld the people. The reputation be has as a good talker will draw a crowd if it is known in time. After he had concluded, Mr. Jake Kemple occupied the stand for a few minutes, and then the meeting was closed with the benediction by Rev. Thompson.

To-morrow night Mr. Frank Grubb, of Columbus, O, will talk in Ott's Hall. He has spoken here on previous occasions and we know there will be a large turnout in the above hall to-morrow night.

The Kasley Bros, were tendered a vote of thanks by the Ott's Hall Union at their last meeting for a large load of coal.

Yesterday was the twenty-sixth Sunday after Penticost.

Bishop Kain preached at the morning service at the Cathedral yesterday.

Yesterday was celebrated as sacred to the remembranes of the dead, by the congregation of St. Join's Protestant Church.

Rev. Voes, pastor, delivered a sermon upon the text, "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but be of good cheer for I have overcome the world."

Rev. A. J. Lyda occupied the pulpit of the English Lutheran Church-yesterday morning and preached a most acceptable sermon from the text: "What think ye of Christ?" found in the gospel by Matthew, the XXII chapter at the 42d verse. Several members of the congregation expressed their great pleasure at hearing this discourse, which was prenounced an able one, and their gratitude to Rev. Lyda for his kindness in taking their pastor's place.

The Sunday school was full of scholars. PINK DOMINOES.—A company under the management of Mr. John T. Ford will produce the "Pink Dominoes" at the Opera House to morrow evening. The Harrisbury Putriet speaks of the company and play as follows:

The comedy of "Pink Dominoes" as rendered by the excellent company under the management of John T. Ford at the Opera House last night, was a lively and entertaining performance. Though filled to the brim with laughter-moving incidents its tone was in a high degree moral and instructive, teaching the danger that attends any violation of the rules of domestic propriety and virtue. To the extremely prudish it might be regarded as rather load and ansecution in the rather than the state of the state of Sex tremely prudish it might be regarded as rather loud and suggestive in some of its details, but these were relieved by its lightness and innocent gayety and its exceedingly comical situations. The conversation was lively, piquant and witty. The acting throughout was of a high order, and the company left an excellent impression upon the audience.

The sale of reserved seats will commence at the box office this morning at 9 o'clock.

The amateur journalist who each week inflicts a hand-bill upon a long-suffering public and calls it a "Sunday paper" considers the city editor of the INTELLIGENCE a personsge of such great importance to his readers that he never goes to press without giving us the benefit of a quarter of a column or so of his "valuable space." The unprovoked and murderous assanlt made upon us last spring by a person known to be a desperate character is a sweet morsel that the Leader man rolls under his tongue with great relish. We have never heard that the encounter referred to reflected any discredit either upon us or upon the INTELLIGENCER. We are free to say that we have never aspired to be a bully, and moreover we have never envied the brilliant reputation schieved by Mr. Johnson when he drew a revolver upon a defenseless old man at the Grant House a year of no sgo, and was required, before a court RELIABLE help for weak and nervous sufferers. Chronic, painful, and prostrating diseases cared without medicine. Pulvermacher's Electric Belts the grand desideratum. Avoid imitations. Book and Journal, with particulars, mailed free.
